

Ferguson, Pepper Disagree on Steps

Ferguson Says Subcommittee to Decide Whether to Continue Hughes Probe; Pepper Says It's Up to Senate

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today it will be up to his war investigating subcommittee to decide whether to probe deeper into the "side issue" feud between Howard Hughes and Senator Brewster (R-Mo.).

But Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) declared that in his view the next step, if there is one, will have to be taken either by the full Senate or the Justice Department.

The two ranking members of the subcommittee outlined their opinions in separate interviews as the Customs Bureau stepped into the picture in an effort to make certain that the main Hughes inquiry can get underway again November 17.

Frank Dow, acting commissioner of customs, notified collectors at all ports yesterday to stop John W. Meyer, Hughes' free-spirited publicity man, if he tries to leave the country.

Meyer's unexplained absence last Saturday after an earlier committee subpoena for him expired was one of the reasons Ferguson cited for ordering a postponement in the two-week-old investigation into Hughes' $400,000 worth of wartime airplane contracts.

Meyer originally flew here from Paris to testify about his party-throwing activities in behalf of Hughes. But Dow, in issuing his order to customs collectors to seize the poorly contact man's passport if he shows up, emphasized he had no knowledge that Meyer might be headed abroad.

"Just a precautionary measure," was the way he described it.

Several friends of Meyer said they talked to him at a New York night club early yesterday but none could recall that Meyer told them where he is staying.

However, Meyer was in his usual gay humor, said he planned to remain in New York for some time and had been in Richmond, Va., last week-end, and didn't seem to be worrying about process servers, his friends said.

Among those Meyer talked to at El Morocco night club were actors Dane Clark and Bruce Cabot, and Stewart and Mary May Barthelmess, children of actor Richard Barthelmess.

With Hughes back in Hollywood, Brewster vacationing in Maine and most subcommittee members turning their attention to other matters, there was little left here to keep the controversy alive. But Brewster said at Portland last night that "we've just begun to fight."

Both Ferguson and Pepper agreed that even if the subcommittee wanted to, it would be unable to draft any formal findings on the "you're another" feud.

Hughes, the chief executive officer of the full investigating committee, offered to stop the

Lords Ask Parliament Reconvene

Salisbury Would Have House Keep Eye on Situation; Socialistic Pace Slows.

Differences Appear

Laborites Disagree Over Policies as Crisis Is Deepened

London, Aug. 13 (AP)—Conservative members of the House of Lords rallied behind a motion for a special summer session to guard against abuse of the labor government's new "crisis powers" as Parliament prepared to recess today after one of the most momentous sessions in its history.

While the House of Lords, sitting by itself, would have little control over any government action, the Marquess of Salisbury, Conservative leader, said he believed it should meet again in three weeks, if only to keep an eye on the situation.

"If the other house is not willing to take such a course, it is entirely their affair," he declared. "We in this house must regard ourselves as trustees of the British people."

Before acting on the motion for a summer meeting, the House of Lords was scheduled to consider possible amendments to legislation giving the government almost unlimited powers to deal with Britain's growing economic crisis.

The possibility appeared slight, however, that the Lords would attempt any major modifications of the measure.

While the government was assured of the powers it requested to cope with the economic situation, the end of the parliamentary season found it showing signs of slowing down on the road to socialism along which it has been leading the nation.

Major steps have been taken along that road since King George VI opened the session last November 12. Railroads, long distance motor transport, canal, electricity supplies and real estate development have been brought under public ownership.

The coal mines, the Bank of England, atomic research and civil aviation were nationalized during the 1946 session—the first after labor came to power.

Most Historic Action
Perhaps the most historic action of the session now ending was the granting of freedom of India, while among the most hotly contested steps was the adoption of legislation providing for a year's compulsory military service for young men reaching 18.

Other major action of Parliament included the ratification of peace treaties with Hungary, Italy, Finland, Bulgaria and Romania, and the consolidation of the admiralty, war and air ministries into a single ministry of defense.

The generally smooth flow of Labor-sponsored legislation was interrupted by a series of amendments to the Labor-sponsored bill for the

Dewey Will Talk At Dutchess Fair Wednesday, Aug. 27

Will Arrive at 2 P.M., Then Speak Informally; Event Stated for Three Days

Rhinebeck, Aug. 13—Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who owns and operates a 300-acre dairy farm at Pawling, will visit the Dutchess County Fair, Wednesday, August 27, talk to and with his neighbors, inspect the thousands of exhibits, and tour the fairgrounds, Ernest I. Hatfield, publicity director, said today. The Dutchess fair will open at Rhinebeck Tuesday August 26, and continue through Saturday.

The possibility appeared slight, however, that the Lords would attempt any major modifications of the measure.

Major steps have been taken along that road since King George VI opened the session last November 12. Railroads, long distance motor transport, canal, electricity supplies and real estate development have been brought under public ownership.

President Gives His Blessing to Security Group

United States Delegation Is Given Wishes for Successful Parley in Brazil

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—President Truman sent the United States delegation off to the Pan American Security Meeting in Rio De Janeiro today with his best wishes for "a successful conference."

"I come to bid you gentlemen farewell, and wish you a happy and successful trip and a successful conference," Mr. Truman told the departing delegates at Washington National Airport.

"I am glad to have this delegation—as it has so many times in the past—working for peace in the world, particularly in the Western Hemisphere."

The United States delegation to the conference, opening in the Brazilian capital Friday, is headed by Secretary of State Marshall and includes Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the U. N. Security Council and former Republican senator from Vermont.

After wishing the delegation good luck, President Truman said he hopes the Rio conference will set an example for the rest of the world.

Vandenberg commented: "I agree with that." Secretary Marshall, replying to the President's brief, informal speech, said that he and his colleagues were confident that the conference would be a success.

Clark's announcement yesterday said he was handing over to the Justice Department's anti-trust division the task of finding out whether there are any conspiracies to "maintain or to increase present prices" in the food, clothing and housing fields.

Declaring that "new and more vigorous approach" to the problem of rising prices is needed, the attorney general added that in the case of any individual convictions the department will urge jail terms rather than just fines.

"Maximum fines" will be asked for any corporations found guilty, he added.

Survey Discloses There's Plenty in Ulster, Despite Travel

While the gasoline situation along the Atlantic seaboard is described by oil men as "tight" and "spotty" in some localities, there appears to be no immediate shortage of gasoline in the Kingston area despite the heavy summer demand. Inquiry among the major oil distributing companies in this area today disclosed that the local distribution stations have a "normal supply" on hand.

One of the big distributors reported an "ample supply" on hand but stated that at the moment the company's supply of "high test" gas was low, but this condition would be remedied when a barge arrived this week.

'Plenty of Gas'

Another of the large concerns reported "plenty of gas on hand" with normal supplies being received by barge. "We have all we can sell," the local plant manager stated.

"We seem to be getting a normal supply of gasoline at the moment by water shipment and unless the situation changes we will be able to supply the trade without putting a quota system in effect," said one local manager.

There has been a shortage of gasoline in the middle west due, it is stated, to transportation difficulties and in places quotas for retail distributors have been established. This situation also exists in some localities along the eastern seaboard, one local oil man stated today, but he said while the situation was a "little tight" on the eastern seaboard in this immediate area there was an ample supply at this time.

'All They Demand'
"We have been able to supply our stations with all the gasoline they demand," said another spokesman, but he explained that while there was an ample supply of gas on hand now, a shortage in some nearby locality might result in a diversion from this area to the short area.

"In general the gasoline situation is considered fairly tight along the east coast," said one company representative, "but in this area we have at the moment an ample supply to meet demand."

A check at several retail stations revealed that they were being supplied with sufficient gasoline to meet the demand which is large at this season of the year, due to the heavy summer traffic.

Strikers Must Wait 7 Weeks for Compensation

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP)—A State Unemployment Insurance Division official says 1,500 striking workers at Remington Rand, Inc., plants in nearby Tonawanda and North Tonawanda must wait seven weeks before they will be eligible for unemployment compensation.

William S. Zylwits, senior manager of the division, ruled yesterday the strike was a new one, but Walter C. Gaul, president of Local 808, United Electrical Workers (C.I.O.), said the Monday walkout was a continuation of a strike started June 18 and settled in New York July 26.

Gaul said he wired Governor Dewey in protest. The workers left their jobs in a company-union dispute over interpretation of the New York agreement, which provided an eight-cent hourly wage increase, six paid holidays and arbitration of the original 15-cent demand for 9,000 union members in the Tonawandas, Syracuse, Dion and Herkimer, N. Y., and Benton Harbor, Mich.

Won't Boost Price
Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—A U. S. Treasury spokesman said today there has been no discussion of increasing the treasury's price on gold from the present $35 an ounce to $50. The statement to reporters was intended to scotch what were described as "persistent rumors" in the London financial district that such an increase is in prospect.

Port Ewen Corps Hired by Legion to Play at Convention

All Veterans of County Invited to Parade With Esopus Post; New Officers In Port Ewen, Aug. 13—Arrangements, were completed at last night's meeting of Town of Esopus Post, 1298, American Legion, for the Port Ewen File, Drum and Bugle Corps to lead the Legionnaires in the parade at the national convention in New York city, Saturday, August 30.

In voting to engage the musical unit, the Esopus town post expressed a desire to have all Ulster County Legionnaires march with it in the big parade up Fifth avenue.

At the meeting, during which installation of new officers was conducted by County Commander Philip Schantz of Highland, announcement was made that bus transportation would be furnished to town of Esopus Legionnaires and their families desiring to attend the convention.

Details concerning the means of making reservations for convention bus transportation will be announced later.

Most All Legionnaires
It was emphasized that a great number of musicians in the Port Ewen corps are veterans with memberships in the Esopus Legion, and because of this the unit will represent the town post in the parade, wearing overseas caps and displaying Legion emblems on the bass drums.

Consensus at the meeting was that hiring the drum corps would not only furnish more of a thrill for local marchers, but would be the means of much favorable publicity for the Town of Esopus.

Before a large assemblage of Port Ewen voters

At a meeting of the voters of School District No. 13, town of Esopus, held last evening the proposition to erect an addition to the Port Ewen school building to house toilet facilities, was adopted by a vote of 48 to 15.

The proposed addition will cost estimated $6,500 and it is planned to begin the work as soon as possible. Under the plan, which will be submitted to the State Education Department for final approval, it is proposed to erect a concrete block and frame addition at the front entrance to the school and utilize the present vestibule facilities, toilets will be placed on either side of the vestibule.

Clifford Finley, treasurer, stated this morning that it was planned to submit the plans to the State Department as quickly as possible for final approval and that bids would then be sought and the work carried to completion as quickly as possible. However it is not anticipated that the work can be completed in time for the opening of school next month.

42 Points In City Are CheckSpots

Expect 25,000 Drivers to Participate; Will Give Cards for Mailing to Department

Count Will Be Made

Traffic Will Be Given Spot Check 2 Days Prior

Albany, Aug. 13—A comprehensive survey of traffic conditions in the city of Kingston with special emphasis on downtown, business and industrial areas, will be conducted by the New York State Department of Public Works August 21 between 7 a. m. and 7 p. m.

The survey is being made in order that all possible information on Kingston city traffic may be accumulated, correlated and analyzed on a scientific basis prior to the completion of plans for a state-financed system of urban arterial routes to be undertaken within the city.

The survey will be directed by James S. Bieby, State Department of Public Works District Engineer of Poughkeepsie.

Will Distribute Cards
State and city police will co-operate with department employees since all traffic passing 42 key points in the city will be halted and drivers provided with self-addressed postcards, which they will be requested to check and mail to the Department's District Office in Poughkeepsie at the end of their respective trips that day. The 42 points at which the cards will be distributed will constitute two main cordons, one at the outskirts of the city and the other around its business section. Distribution of cards will be effected in such a manner as to cause a delay in traffic. It is expected that 25,000 motorists will participate in the survey.

Two cards will be provided each driver. One will be a colored instruction card which the driver is to display in his windshield so he will not be stopped at any other survey station. The second is his survey card on which he will be requested to indicate the general location at which his trip started that day. He will also be requested to check his ultimate destination, certain intersections he may have passed, as well as other delay in traffic. Similarly he will be asked to indicate whether, on reaching his destination, he parked his car at a curb, parking lot or garage. Space will also be provided on the card to indicate the type of vehicle driven on the trip. No signature will be required on the card.

This specialized survey will provide data as to where people came from, where they are going and the routes followed in the city. It will include information as to traffic originating outside the city as well as that starting within the city.

Will Stop All Traffic
During the hours of the survey all private traffic proceeding toward the center of the city is to be stopped by police officers and cards will be handed to the drivers by the state employees. A 12-hour traffic count will also be taken at each of the survey stations in Kingston August 19.

There will be 14 outer cordons stations on the major streets at the city lines, where traffic is to be controlled by the state police, and 28 inner cordons stations around the downtown section where traffic will be under the supervision of city police.

Approximately 120 policemen and troopers as well as 150 department employees will be required for this survey, which will be like those conducted in 35 other New York state cities during the last year. Similar studies are to be made in each city of the state in preparation of urban arterial route planning with surveys scheduled for Oneonta, Amsterdam and Glens Falls August 14, 15 and 19 respectively.

She was then taken to her home.

Third Hearing Due Before Council; Has Answers to Blast of Egyptians

Lake Success, Aug. 13 (AP)—Egypt is opposed to putting her case against Britain before the International Court of Justice at The Hague, an authoritative source declared today.

This view was expressed as the United Nations Security Council gathered for the third airing (at 3 p. m., E.D.T.) of the case in little more than a week.

Sir Alexander Cadogan, the British delegate, who so far has delivered two long speeches on Egypt, was ready with an answer to an Egyptian blast delivered on Monday.

"Egypt has demanded repeatedly that the Security Council order the British to leave Egypt immediately and to terminate the joint British-Egyptian rule over the Sudan."

The British argue that Egypt signed a treaty covering these points which is good until 1956

Crawford Says Clark's Order Seems Aimed At Bringing on Depression in United States

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Rep. Crawford (R-Mich.), a leading congressional critic of O.P.A., today labeled as "fantastic" Attorney General Clark's order for an investigation into food, clothing and shelter prices.

The lawmaker said it appears to him to be aimed at bringing about a depression at home to help foreign nations buy more goods here. He added that Clark is going to turn his attention to the administration's fiscal policies which, Crawford contended, are the cause of high prices.

The National Federation of Small Business announced meanwhile that Clark's program is in line with what that organization has been urging since last spring.

George J. Burger, the federation's Washington representative, told newsmen member reports indicate particular concern over "growing economic concentration in the distribution businesses."

The Justice Department itself was silent on what leads, if any, it may have uncovered to prompt Clark's promise of jail terms for anyone found guilty of "conspiracies" to force prices up and keep them there.

New York spokesmen for the three industry groups cited said their records are clear.

Most Congress members still in Washington adopted an attitude of waiting to see what their own committees find out during a series of cross country studies this summer and fall.

But Crawford was quick to challenge Clark's motives.

"The fantastic announcement of the attorney general that he is going to investigate the prices of the necessities of life is apparent to anyone who has closely followed the present and previous administrations' policies," the Michigan lawmaker told a reporter.

"If there is one step that could have been taken since 1933 to push prices up and which hasn't been taken I don't know what it is. The administration has embarked upon policies of restricted production, it has revalued gold and it has resorted to record deficit financing in time of peace."

"Recently the administration has proceeded on a world-wide program of extending dollar credits to other nations before home

Propaganda Great Weapon, Hickey Tells Lions Club

Captain Andrew S. Hickey, retired, United States naval officer, addressed members of the Kingston Lions Club at their regular weekly luncheon meeting held at the Governor Clinton yesterday afternoon. His topic was, "Propaganda, and how it affects the opinions and decisions of many people."

Defining propaganda as a weapon used to influence the opinions and general conduct of people, Captain Hickey pointed out that one must distinguish carefully between true and false propaganda. If properly handled, he said, propaganda can become a great weapon used as a national policy.

His experiences in seeing both types of propaganda at work are derived from approximately 40 years of service with the United States naval service in both world wars, and his 12 years of duty with various embassies and legations in different countries where he worked in several capacities.

A few of the many places to which Captain Hickey was assigned were England, France, Spain, Argentina, Russia, Finland, Denmark, Belgium, Mexico and Portugal.

Swallowed by People

In his worldwide travels, he noticed that in many sectors propaganda was used extensively as a national policy and was swallowed whole by the people.

Originally, he stressed, propaganda was passed along by word of mouth, but with the advent of the press, telegraph and radio it assumed greater proportions.

Captain Hickey graduated from the Kingston Academy in 1902, and then attended the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis where he graduated in 1906.

Hasbrouck Tells Police How Kids Treated Auto

Harry Hasbrouck of 166 Henry street likes to see kids have some fun, having been a kid himself at one time, but there's a limit to everything, he told the police department yesterday.

While his car was parked at that address last night, some youngsters took the gasoline cap off his 1936 DeSoto coupe, stuffed paper down into the gas tank and also increased the liquid displacement of the tank by carefully inserting assorted rocks and pebbles into the tank.

The net result: The car wouldn't start, the gas cap is still missing and Mr. Hasbrouck was slightly disconcerted.

Fugitives Are at Large

Salem, Mass., Aug. 13 (AP)—Three armed fugitives from the Essex county jail break still at large were believed trapped in swampy woodland off the Andover Turnpike today after they escaped police bullets in an early morning chase. Their trail was picked up within 12 hours after Richard Wysocki, 20, accused rapist who boasted he wanted to "kill a cop," was captured without a struggle in nearby Beverly attempting to flee in a stolen car.

Mother Is Charged With Killing Son

Woman, 63, Is in Ellis Hospital, Schenectady

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP)—A 63-year-old woman, charged with first degree murder in the axe slaying of her son, was held under guard today in Ellis Hospital where she is reported recovering from a knife wound in the throat which she said was self-inflicted.

Assistant District Attorney Emmet Lynch said the woman, Mrs. Essie Grabo, signed a statement saying she killed her son, Burton, 41, yesterday because she feared he would be sent to a mental institution, and then attempted twice to kill herself.

Lynch said the woman probably would be arraigned today.

The son's body was found yesterday morning on a divan in Mrs. Grabo's home, his head, face and neck slashed in 10 places. Later police found a blood-stained axe in the cellar.

Shortly before the discovery of Burton's body, Mrs. Grabo was found sitting chin-deep in the Mohawk river, about 10 miles from her home. Her throat was cut, but not deeply.

Lynch said Mrs. Grabo will undergo a mental examination before her case is presented to the September grand jury.

The son was released from a mental institution three and a half years ago, Lynch said. His mother brooded over this and also over her own imminent divorce, Lynch quoted her as saying.

She cut her throat and then tried to drown herself in the shallow water, she was reported as saying. In the end she called for help.

Lynch said Burton, a salesman, was married, but had been sleeping at his mother's home.

115 Local Boys Are to Be Kiwanis Guests at Game

Approximately 115 local boys will leave Kingston by bus early tomorrow morning for New York city where they will witness a major league baseball game at the Yankee Stadium. The trip is being sponsored by the Kingston Kiwanis Club.

Final arrangements for the trip were completed by the Kiwanis Boys' and Girls' Committee, and the group will travel under the guidance of delegated Kiwanis members.

The boys will take a box lunch with them, and on the return trip will stop off at the Bear Mountain Inn, where arrangements have been made to have all cafeteria facilities available.

Pearson Obtains Show Cause Order

Former Maverick Players Manager Files Papers

Four members of the Maverick Players were summoned today in a show cause order to appear before Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick, Saturday, in an action brought by Jean Pearson, former manager.

Maverick company members served were Kenneth Paine, Michael Manor, Priscilla Amidon and Thomas Toman.

Mise Pearson asks that judgment be given dissolving the company and that a receiver be appointed to account for investments she made.

She asks $5,000 for dismissal from her position, $140 with interest in severance pay and $25,000 for injuries to her reputation.

The former manager claims she spent $640 in organizing the theatrical company between April 27 and June 24, and alleges she was ousted on July 17, and that subsequently thereto the defendants unjustly accused her of having misused funds.

Moving Sands

Kill Devil Hill, the dune at Kithawick, which is 150 feet high, was erected in 1932 in honor of the Wright brothers, was found to have shifted 400 feet since the Wrights first flew their plane over it 29 years before.

Britain Takes Added $150,000,000 Of U. S. Advance

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Britain, hard up for dollars, has withdrawn another $150,000,000 of her United States credit, the treasury disclosed today.

The withdrawal leaves only $850,000,000 remaining of the $3,750,000,000 granted in mid-1945.

Treasury officials have estimated the entire credit will be exhausted by October 1 if the present rate of withdrawals is continued.

Originally, it was estimated the funds would last until June 30, 1948, by which time the British government expected to have its economy stabilized.

Egypt Opposes

and that the issue is whether any nation can break a treaty by appealing to the United Nations.

According to Sullivan, reports that the case might go to the international court, a source familiar with Egyptian policy said that Egypt is opposed to any "legalistic" settlement of the dispute.

"This source said that the Egyptian people wanted a clean-cut decision and did not want to become involved in legal maneuverings. Meanwhile, the Security Council paved the way for a long statement on the conflict in the East Indies by deciding to seat a representative of the Indonesian Republic at the council table.

The vote, taken late yesterday, was 8 to 3, with Britain, France and Belgium in the negative.

Anti Appearance

The council president, Faris El Khoury, of Syria, asked Sultan Shahrir, former premier of the Indonesian government, to come to the table, but before Shahrir could rise from his seat on the front row of the spectacular session the council began wrangling over a Dutch-Belgian demand that representatives of the states of East Indonesia and West Borneo also be seated.

"The Indonesian affair was put off until tomorrow at 3 p. m. (E.D.T.), when Shahrir is expected to take his seat. The council must decide on a second request from the Philippines to be heard on the Indonesian fighting and an Australian motion for the council to create a commission to report directly to the Security Council on the situation in Indonesia.

Herschel V. Johnson, United States deputy delegate, told the council that his government favored hearing the Indonesians, but would take no stand now on recognition of the Indonesian Republic. He said the Indonesians must be heard as a matter of "simple justice."

In one of the rare instances in council history, Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet delegate, agreed with Johnson. He spoke in support of a Polish motion to invite the Indonesian Republic to the table.

To Hear Case

The council is slated to hear more on the Balkans case tomorrow morning at 10:30 (E.D.T.).

Delegates still were discussing among themselves the strong speech by Johnson yesterday in which he pledged to protect Greece against what he described as efforts of Communist-dominated Yugoslavia to set up a totalitarian regime in Athens.

Russia has vetoed a United States plan for a semi-permanent commission to seek to bring order in the Balkans. The council failed to approve a Russian resolution calling for withdrawal of foreign troops from Greece and for a commission to supervise economic aid to the Greek people.

Now the council is seeking some way out of the Balkans case acceptable to all. The consensus today was that that way is not yet apparent.

Lords Ask . . .

disturbed near the end of the session, however, when differences among the 393 Labor members developed space with the darkening economic clouds.

A back-bench rebellion against the policies of Prime Minister Attlee and his cabinet—confined at first to criticism of his policies on conscription and foreign aid—gathered increased strength and extended wider objectives during the closing days, but a party split in the sense that many Conservatives had hoped for has not developed.

In the House of Commons itself, while some Labor members have criticized the government freely, Labor has continued to vote almost 100 per cent for government-sponsored measures. The House of Lords made full use of its limited powers as "an amending and revising" chamber during the session, but avoided a head-on clash on any major issue which might provoke Commons into carrying out a threat to restrict its powers still further if it obstructed Labor's program.

Two Assault Cases Result in Arrest Of Banks, Miller

Everett Banks, of 95 Delwitt street, who was arrested by his wife, Edna Banks, on a third degree assault charge last night, was held under $500 bail and his case postponed until today, when he was arraigned before City Judge Matthew V. Cahill in city court this morning.

Banks is alleged to have grabbed his wife by the throat and punched her around the face and head, inflicting several bruises and cuts. He was confined in the city hall jail tonight.

John B. Miller, who lives in an apartment house at 87 Pearl street, was fined $25 and given a 60-day suspended jail sentence, when arraigned on a third degree assault charge preferred by Elizabeth F. Oats, of the same address.

According to the police, Miller severely beat the woman after an argument. Judge Cahill gave him the choice of $25 fine or 25 days in jail and tacked on a 60-day jail sentence which was suspended on the stipulation that Miller move from the premises.

Francis Lanteto, of Hazerville, Conn., was fined $10 on a public intoxication charge. He was arraigned on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Daniel Collins, with 37 previous public intoxication charges against him, appeared in city court for the 38th time this morning . . . on the same charge.

His next appearance, if there is to be one, will be delayed somewhat as Judge Cahill gave him lodging in the Ulster county jail for the next 90 days.

Registered Nurses May Have Another District in Area

A move is underway to establish a new district of the New York State Nurses' Association, reducing the area of the present District No. 11, which comprises Greene, Ulster and Schoharie and Rockland counties. Miss Dorothy E. Buddenhagen, chairman of a local committee formed to effect a district embracing Ulster and Greene counties, has announced.

Since there are approximately 500 registered nurses in Ulster county alone, with a majority comprising District No. 11, coming from this area, local nurses feel that an active Nurses' Association is more important today than ever. Legislation affecting the nursing profession, salaries, hours and working conditions should be considered by all professional registered nurses. Miss Buddenhagen said, and because of the great distance involved in traveling to meetings in the five-county area many nurses were unable to attend these sessions.

The new district, if it materializes, will be restricted to nurses of Ulster and Greene counties. The smaller area, involving considerably less travel, will enable many more nurses to be present at meetings designed to benefit the nursing profession.

Sentenced to Jail

Arrested at Ellenville by the Ellenville police on a charge of public intoxication yesterday, William O'Grady, 50, of 506 West 17th street, New York, was arraigned before Police Justice Benjamin Lonstein and sentenced to serve 25 days in the county jail.

Treaki Admits Killing, Prosecutor McNally Declares

Detroit, Aug. 13 (AP)—A middle-aged machinist and former butcher has signed a statement, Prosecutor James N. McNally reported today, admitting that he killed his 20-year-old wife and hacked her body to pieces.

McNally said Harry Treaki, 50, gave up last night his earlier attempt to implicate two others in the Saturday slaying of his wife, Jean, and finally took full responsibility for the act in a formal statement signed after lengthy and intensive police grilling.

The husband, who earlier had been quoted by police as calling his wife a "no-good woman," said in the statement he was infuriated because she was "chasing around" with other men, the prosecutor added.

Treaki admitted, according to McNally, that he struck the fatal blows with a meat cleaver in the dining room the couple had occupied for 11 days since their marriage, then stabbed his wife with a beer can opener, used a small knife to dissect her body and then disposed of it in three bundles in the alley behind the Third Avenue rooming house.

Preacher Held for Rape

Moultrie, Ga., Aug. 13 (AP)—A Baptist preacher accused of attempting to rape a 12-year-old choir girl who consulted him about missionary work declared from his jail cell last night, "I am not guilty in any way." Sheriff T. V. Beard said the girl's father swore out a warrant charging the Rev. J. C. Embree, pastor of the Baptist Church in Doerun, Ga., with "attempted rape." Interviewed by a Moultrie Observer reporter, Embree said "I took a girl in my car to talk missionary work and the only time I touched her was when I examined an unusual ring on one of her fingers."

Dayton, O., Aug. 13 (AP)—Red-haired Dolly Cox, 24-year-old divorcee, was on her way home to Tennessee today after promising she wouldn't try to see again the 16-year-old high school freshman she called "my man." The comely Dolly, mother of a three-year-old daughter, started back to Greenville, Tenn., with her father, Ed Cox, a few minutes after Judge Frank W. Nicholas of Montgomery County Domestic Relations Court concluded her hearing by saying: "We don't want you in Dayton. I don't know if they want you in Greenville, but if you ever come back to Dayton you will be picked up and put in jail."

Baright Addresses High Falls G.L.F. On Value of Farms

High Falls, Aug. 13 — Daniel Baright, G.L.F. district manager, told listeners at the annual High Falls G.L.F. patrons' meeting in the Gwage Hall, Stone Ridge, Tuesday night that northeastern farmers today are specialists who convert raw materials into highly palatable, nutritious foods for the 23,000,000 people living in their market area.

The guest speaker added that milk, eggs, fruit and vegetables are the end products of practically all Northeastern agriculture and their sale makes up a large part of this section's total agricultural income. He said that farmers built the G.L.F. to provide the means of securing a steady flow of needed farm production supplies and to help them market their farm products.

Work of G.L.F.

Years ago, the speaker explained, farmers were able to produce about everything they and their neighbors needed. Now Northeastern farmers must produce enough food to supply the consumers of this great market. Mr. Baright continued, and they need midwestern grain to blend scientifically with what they grow themselves for their livestock and poultry.

G.L.F. has become a real part of these farm operations, the speaker said by providing such supplies through service agencies for the 150,000 Northeastern farmers who make up its membership, and by marketing their products efficiently.

During Tuesday's meeting colored slides were exhibited showing how G.L.F. supplies its patrons and markets their products through facilities established and developed in its 27-year history. Declaring that barn raisings, husking bees and quilting parties were the ancestors of G.L.F., a booklet distributed at the meeting said that "G.L.F. is just a bunch of farmers who believe that the best way to accomplish what you want is to get together with your neighbors and do the job."

The booklet, entitled "Farmers Together," added that through G.L.F. farmers have set a standard "of an earlier, more self-reliant day, when men did more things for things for themselves and also did more things together."

A newly designed type of diphtheria and smallpox immunization certificate and report card is being issued this week to all Ulster county physicians by the Ulster County Health Department. This combination certificate and report card will enable physicians to report inoculations promptly and at the same time he can present the certificate of vaccination or immunization to the parents of the child as a permanent record, stated Dr. Allen Longshore, the new deputy commissioner.

The new report cards are in two parts, one to be filled out by the physician and mailed to the Department of Health here, where that portion will become a permanent record, and the second part is the "Record for Parents" and contains the vaccination or immunization certificate which parents are asked to request from the physician and which is to be retained by the parents as a record for future reference. This certificate for vaccination given to parents, or a similar one for immunization, will be standard in form, a blue card for diphtheria and a yellow card for smallpox.

According to our available figures, admittedly incomplete, there are now only 51 per cent of the pre-school children inoculated against diphtheria in Kingston, and only 30 per cent inoculated in the rest of the county. Health authorities are agreed that the desirable level for prevention of epidemics is 70 per cent of the pre-school children immunized. Our protective level while not attaining the 70 per cent we desire is in all probability greater than the 51 per cent recorded due to the incomplete reporting under the present rather cumbersome system," Dr. Longshore said. It is expected that the new method of reporting now being instituted will provide more complete records.

The fact that all the physicians will now have available to them a standard certificate which will be uniform throughout the county is one of the advantages of this new form. All parents should request such a certificate from their physician when the immunizations are completed.

HELP FOR THE INSANE

After nine months of existence as a receiving hospital for Ohio's insane, Hoover Pavilion, a part of Cleveland's City Hospital, was toured this week by a group of newspaper men. Dr. Robert E. Bennett, the hospital's head, wanted the public to know about the progress made.

A re-decorating job has been one basic improvement made in the building. This was governed, not only by artistic standards, but with the idea in mind that some colors have a soothing effect upon the occupant of a room, while others, like red, are exciting in their influence. The walls are therefore done in soft shades of green, rose, or yellow.

New ideas of treatment successfully put into practice embrace a 24-hour program, leaving patients no time for vacant day-dreaming. Personal relationships between inmates are worked out, and group activities fostered, among them being dancing lessons and out-door games. Music appreciation is one of the quiet occupations encouraged, while violent emotions may be worked off by ball games or by slamming the heavy bar of a rug loom. Old-time restraining mechanisms are not used, but no serious injuries or fatalities have occurred.

With the increasing number of cases of mental breakdown resulting from the pressures and tensions of modern life, it is of vital importance that nothing be left undone which might contribute to the help or bring about the cure of these victims. The successful experiments being tried at Hoover Pavilion will be of value to other institutions with the same problems.

A wonderful phrase describing much modern fiction appeared in a recent book review by Nash K. Burger in the New York Times. It largely concerns, he says, "people the reader will be glad he does not know."

NEW PARTY

A new political party has arisen. The Vegetarian Party has nominated Dr. John Maxwell of Chicago for President on a meatless platform. While the vegetarians hardly look for victory, they think that they might get 5,000,000 votes. Only 3,000,000 are reckoned as abstainers from meat; the other votes are expected to come from prohibitionists, anti-violenceists and anti-cigarette smokers.

If the Vegetarians got 5,000,000 votes or even a fifth of that number, they might turn the scale in several states. If their campaign makes any headway, it would not be surprising to have the major nominees drop a few words in their direction. Not kind enough, however, to risk offending the butchers and the meat-eaters.

Evidences of life in Boston's exclusive Back Bay section 3,600 years ago have been revealed by excavators. It is still too early to tell whether the inhabitants of that time were Cabots or Lowells.

COLLEGES AND COMMUNISM

In the United States, teachers in colleges and universities are supposed to teach the truth as they see it; not as the governing body, state or private, directs. Not all trustees let American professors live up to this ideal, but in most institutions they do. Academic freedom is one which Americans stand by strongly.

Not so in Communist-dominated lands. The new Polish Minister of Education announces that henceforth the Polish universities will teach Marxist theories. It does not take much guessing to predict the fate of the professor who tells his class that these theories are unsound.

Anyhow, you always know where the Russians stand. Around the corner growling at you.

BASEBALL'S OLD PROBLEM

The irresistible force stopped the immovable body, or perhaps it was the other way round. Anyway Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell, who had equaled the modern pitching record of 16 successive victories, was beaten by New York's home run trio of Mize, Marshall and

THE CHOSEN INSTRUMENT

The Hughes-Brewster controversy is not germane to the investigation of war contracts, but it does arise out of a quarrel which has engaged American airlines for several years. The differences have been so acute that it is not astonishing that Howard Hughes should have attempted to focus attention on them, perhaps to divert attention from his own investigation.

Competition is a fundamental economic process in the United States, but that is not so in most countries. In fact, most countries today, even those that regard themselves as capitalistic, withdraw certain industries from competition, particularly the means of communication. This principle has been applied to aviation in the international field by the selection of one company in each country to act as a "chosen instrument." Only such a company may engage in the international field. It enjoys a chartered monopoly.

Pan American has advocated that, as it pioneered in the foreign field, it become the "chosen instrument" of American aviation in the foreign field. At various times, it has proposed combinations with other companies and finally what amounted to a cartel of all American companies. The theory behind this was that if American aviation lines competed with each other, as well as with the rest of the world, this country would soon lose its position in this field. It is estimated that about as high as 75 per cent of air travel originates in the United States, but the American companies cannot possibly hold any such proportion of the business.

An International Civil Aviation Conference was held at Chicago in 1944, at which practically all countries, except Soviet Russia were represented. Adolf A. Berle, Jr., represented the United States and presided. A Five Freedoms of the Air declaration was adopted granting the contracting states these rights:

(1) the privilege of flying across the territory of other contracting states without landing; (2) the privilege of landing for non-traffic purposes; (3) the privilege of putting down passengers, mail, and cargo taken on in the territory of the state whose nationality the aircraft possesses; (4) the privilege of taking on passengers, mail, and cargo destined for the territory of the state whose nationality the aircraft possesses; and (5) the privilege of taking on passengers, mail, and cargo destined for the territory of any other contracting state and the privilege of putting down passengers, mail, and cargo coming from any such territory.

Under these Five Freedoms, foreign planes enjoy rights which foreign ships do not enjoy, as for instance, it is presumed that the full freedom of the foreign plane is the right to take and land passengers within the United States. At any rate, there was strong opposition to the entire business and nothing has come of this conference of a substantial character.

Nor has Pan American been selected as the "chosen instrument" of American aviation in the foreign field. American repugnance for monopoly prevented that. Most of our principal aviation companies have in one manner or another entered the foreign field. The question, of course, is whether all of them will be able to keep up with their ambitions.

Aviation, as every new industry, attracts more aggressive personalities than is usual in the old and better established ones. Furthermore, while during war years there was lots of money in this field, it has not been doing too well since V-J Day. The vital question in this industry is how to make an airline self-sustaining without subsidies.

But there is another factor that is generally overlooked in peace time. The air has proved invaluable in the national defense during the war, and it is more important should we have to go to war again. It is essential to maintain strong civilian aviation, if we are to hold our lead in military aviation. It is necessary to provide experimental factories, air fields widely scattered, an effective nucleus of engineers, fliers and other experts. This requires government aid. The various companies vie with each other for this government aid.

Although none of this is germane to Senator Ferguson's investigation, it has done the country no harm to have had it explode. The more aviation is discussed openly, the stronger our country will be. The personalities themselves are trivial.

CANCER

It is not surprising that so many individuals at and past middle age die of cancer of the stomach because in so many cases the symptoms are not severe and they think they have "only a little indigestion." And, unfortunately, if cancer is not treated early the patient's chances of being cured by surgery, X-rays or radium are slim indeed. It is known that surgery can prolong and often save lives of patients with cancer of the stomach by removal of a part or all of the stomach. Many of us may think that a man could not live without his stomach because the different foods get ground and mixed with stomach juices, an important preparation for the digestion of food and absorption of this food into the blood through the walls of the small intestine. It is interesting to learn of the results obtained in 89 cases where the entire stomach and first part of small intestine were removed and the esophagus—tube carrying food to the stomach—connected to second part of small intestine.

Now, as all of these patients would have died of cancer, if this operation had not been performed, it is interesting to learn of the number whose lives were prolonged or a complete cure obtained. Of these 89 patients reported by Dr. H. Finster, Vienna, 54 or over 60 per cent died within the first three and one-half months after operation. By improvement in surgical technique and changing the nature of the operation when it is found that cancer has extended to pancreas, liver, or lymph nodes, the death rate has been reduced to 50 per cent. Of the patients who survived the operation, it shows that the entire stomach can be removed and not necessarily followed by severe anemia (thin blood).

While it is interesting to know that some advanced cases of cancer of the stomach may be saved by surgery, X-ray and radium, it would save much suffering if, as we approach middle age or later, we consulted our physician and had X-ray examination of the stomach and intestines when persistent indigestion is present. Remember, early cancer is curable, and later cancer is fatal in the great majority of cases.

'What's There in It for Me?'

AS PECIER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 11.—Elliott Roosevelt has declared an emotional denial that he ever used his father's influence to get contracts for the Hughes company, which paid more than $1,400 of the expenses of his third wedding. He said substantially the same thing shortly after his father died, when the fact was disclosed that, with the old man's connivance and help, he had chiseled $200,000 from John Hartford. In the same season of good hunting he took $50,000 from David C. Bird and $25,000 from Charles Harwood. Harwood frankly expected Roosevelt to make him a judge of the United States District Court. Elliott dead-beat most of this total of $275,000, but Harwood couldn't be gypped. Elliott's old man didn't come through with the judicial job and old Charlie refused to give up his collateral.

At the time of this revelation, Elliott Roosevelt was a brigadier general. He then hurried out of the army before the war with Japan ended, rather than try to reconcile his default of his just debts with military law. However, he might not have been tried because the Roosevelt brass was still mighty and a Democratic Congress was doggedly concealing corruption which only now is beginning to come out.

In the present instance, Elliott says his promotion to Brigadier was rejected twice by General Marshall, then chief of staff, after it had been recommended by General Spaatz and Eisenhower. He was temporarily turned down, said he, because "it was unusual for a man to have as rapid a rise and because I was the son of the president."

It was not merely unusual but disgraceful that such a man should rise to the rank of brigadier in a highly technical and scientific branch in view of the fact that he had barely the equal of a patched-up and pieced-out high school education. He was a long-divided boy in a league of astral physics and he was not a qualified military pilot. Spaatz and Eisenhower were jumped from colonel and lieutenant-colonel respectively to be dazling ranks of full general and general of the armies. Roosevelt was good to officers who pleased him but vindictive to men who refused to adjust their professional judgments and their ethics to his. Admiral J. O. Richardson was canned from command of the Pacific fleet, because he foretold Roosevelt that it was suicidal to base the fleet at Pearl Harbor and in effect, told this Balbut Nelson that he was just a mama's boy splashing about with celluloid ducks under the eyes of his nurse.

In his book, "As He Saw It," by which Elliott exploited his relationship to the election returns for another $50,000 in royalties, the young tosspot boasts, between accounts of drunken brawls of the gods of war, that he personally got the Legion of Merit for Eisenhower. He put the idea in his old man's head and was delegated to the election returns. He drew up a citation—North African campaign, Sicilian campaign, all that—as the president casually put it to his cub.

On the very next page he is back again on topic A, booze. There he reports that eight navy men, this and that, were awarded the reason I was invited was business. "Like, you know what I mean. I don't have to spell it out for you. I have been entertained by lots of people who wanted business."

In still another job of White House racketeering, Elliott wrote to Steve Early, the old man's secretary, to defer decision on an important public utility case in Texas until he, Elliott, could come to Washington because he was "genuinely and personally interested in this thing." This is in the Senate record.

In a big theatrical scene, Elliott seems to have been taking lessons from his current wife, an actress, in the art of chewing the scenery. "Because of the affection I bore him (meaning the old con-man) I will fight to the death to protect his name and his record," he said.

That is not even good green corn let alone heavy dramma. For money, he dished up his father's name and record irreparably long, long ago. But he needs it too hard because if anyone had the nerve to say, "You old man tainted the kid."

Almost immediately after the disclosure of the gyp of John Hartford, who was finally trimmed of $196,000 by Elliott and then bled of his collateral by the old man of false representations, that the stock was worthless, Elliott's counsel turned out a press release which said that any statement that his father ever had "promoted or assisted" in any of his shady financial dealings was "a deliberate and infamous lie." In any of that time was Randolph Paul, a New Dealer who had been general counsel of the U. S. Treasury. Elliott had a new mouthpiece at the current senatorial inquiry into the chesapeake social life of the tarnished brass in Hollywood. Mr. Paul may have been misled by Elliott but, at any rate, it was absolutely proved that President Roosevelt did, Bird-dog, John Hartford like any underworld chump-hustler along Broadway, and personally rigged the scheme to gyp Hartford of his security and turned it over to Elliott's divorced wife for alimony.

A few days later it was further shown that Elliott arranged a dinner party with his parents at the White House for Hill Blackett, a Chicago advertising man, whom Elliott was pestering for business for his rattletrap radio network. Blackett said, "I assume the reason I was invited was business. 'Like, you know what I mean. I don't have to spell it out for you. I have been entertained by lots of people who wanted business.'"

C. I. O. President's Statement About Taft-Hartley Law Draws Commendation; Gives View on Political Contributions
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 13 — Philip Murray, president of the C. I. O., is to be commended for his frank statement that "there is nothing in the Taft-Hartley law which prevents voluntary contributions from labor unions in connection with political campaigns."

Whenever any labor-union leader makes a statement that assists in removing the misrepresentations that have been circulated about the Taft-Hartley law, he is to be applauded.

For the last several weeks an impression has been broadcast to the effect that union members or leaders cannot participate in political campaigns or support the candidates of their choice. This impression has been disseminated primarily by those who are hostile to the whole law and wish to prevent its effective operation.

Mr. Murray is absolutely right when he says there is nothing in the law to prevent unions from raising funds and using them in the elections. But the method of raising and the manner of expenditure must be according to the accepted rules which have been in effect in the past in connection with election expenses.

From the time of the first corrupt practices act and continuing through the years, when the Smith-Connally act was passed with some provisions governing election contributions, it has always been clearly set forth that any group of citizens can organize a political committee and make any contributions and incur any expenses that their funds will permit. Nor is it necessary for these separate "political committees" to be connected with or tied to the Republican or Democratic national or state committees.

Thus, in the 1944 campaign the C. I. O. set up a national political action committee to which union members contributed funds. This particular "Political Action Committee" came within the provisions of the existing laws which require that a record be kept of contributions and expenditures and that these be filed with the proper authorities as has always been required by the laws governing elections.

As a matter of fact, there is no law to prevent a political committee today from collecting hundreds of millions of dollars from labor-union members provided the process of collection conforms to the methods prescribed in the law. Thus, the federal laws governing elections have stipulated that "political committees" must keep an accurate accounting of what they do and register the names of their contributors with the clerk of the House of Representatives. Also, under the new law, they must keep an account of what expenditures are made.

The only thing that the Taft-Hartley Law prohibits is the "direct expenditure" of union funds or corporation funds in connection with federal elections.

Mr. Murray is right when he says the separate treasuries can be set up for this purpose through separate committees. It would be a violation of law for union officers to spend their time collecting campaign contributions when they are being paid salaries for regular union activities. But a rate system of collection, with canvassers paid for by "political committees," can be set up.

It is a violation of law to take union funds which are collected for some purpose other than the specific purposes of union organization or union maintenance and to use those funds by contributing them to political committees.

The emphasis is on the word "voluntary." Consent must be given by the individual union member for the use of his money for a political purpose.

Thus the Taft-Hartley Law protects the union member who does not believe in a particular party and yet may be forced by union locals to join that political party or contribute to its success. When a worker contributes his regular dues to a union, he does so with the understanding that the money is to be used for the union and not for some purposes which the officers may see fit to use for their own desires, especially in the matter of politics.

Workers in this country divide according to their political beliefs or affiliations. All that the Taft-Hartley Law does, in prohibiting corporation or union "expenditures" to prevent the abuse by labor-union leaders of the right of the individual worker to contribute to whatever political party he desires. SHOKAN

Shokan, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Anna Oates of Brooklyn is spending a vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McGowan.

First election district residents receiving nominations at the Olive Democratic caucus included Justus North of Shokan and John Davis, a new resident of Ashokan, who were named as their party's candidates for supervisor and tax collector respectively. Both men have previously held town offices.

Ray Farmer, a member of the New York city fire department, spent the week-end with his wife and two sons at the family's rented bungalow near the village.

The Corbello firm contractors for the current Route 28 improvement, have a bulldozer at work grading the east side of the Wendt garage lot where they will establish operation headquarters. The contractors plan to set up a large Quonset hut, and oak beams for the silos of this unit are already on the grounds. Two big fuel storage tanks will supply fuel for the concerns Diesel-powered bulldozers and other road-making equipment. Some work has been done at clearing vegetation along the new survey which is designed to eliminate numerous sharp curves between Ashokan and West Hurley. There is a report to the effect that a contract will be paid at the rate of $1.40 an hour for the road job, a wage scale said to be somewhat more attractive than that offered on the Lackawack waterworks project.

August 14, 1913, a number of Shokan residents drove to Samosville to attend the afternoon and evening play sponsored by the Sunday school of the place. There was a large crowd at the doings which included plays and songs as well as music by the Lyonsville Band.

Training Proposal To Be Carried to Nation's Governors

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Congressional backers of universal military training disclosed plans today to carry their case to the people through each of the 48 governors.

The lawmakers have enlisted the aid of a national organization, as yet unidentified, to send out letters to the state executives urging them to whip up sentiment for the legislation.

The governors adopted a resolution advocating universal training at their July conference in Salt Lake City.

Earlier plans were for the House Armed Services Committee, which overwhelmingly approved a U.M.T. bill late last session, to sponsor the state-by-state drive.

This was shelved, however, after some committee members expressed fear the group might lay itself open to criticism by such action.

Members declined to name the organization picked to handle the campaign.

"Public opinion polls demonstrated that the people favor U.M.T. when they express themselves at all, a leading advocate told newsmen. But opponents have an idea that the public does not favor U.M.T. and some of them said privately they will welcome an organized campaign to bring out an expression of sentiment.

"A fair and impartial sampling of opinion will show what the people want, and it is not inconceivable," one prominent opponent commented.

Sanitation Commission Prepares New Orders

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—The Interstate Sanitation Commission, a tri-state agency, is preparing new orders to municipalities to require them to correct the sources of pollution in New York Harbor and adjacent waters.

Seth H. Hess, director and chief engineer of the commission, disclosed last night that the orders were being prepared but he would not say to whom they would be directed. However, J. Spencer Smith, commission chairman, mentioned Peckskill as a community that had failed to heed the commission's requests, adding that there are "many others."

New York city, which now treats less than 50 per cent of its waste, is including funds for major sewage improvements in its capital budget for next year. A small property tax may be proposed to provide the funds.

The commission yesterday took a party of officials, including Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey, on an inspection trip to the metropolitan waterway. Among others in the party aboard the army cutter Sea Echo were Dr. Stanley H. Osborn, Connecticut commissioner of health, and Richard Martin, director of the Connecticut Water Commission.

Inquiry if the airplane designer would agree to merge his Trans World Airlines with Pan-American Airways and support a bill to consolidate all United States Overseas air traffic into a single company.

Brewster flatly denied this and asked Attorney General Clark to make a full investigation.

After two days of charges, counter charges and denials, both men agreed to rest their cases on the record as it stood at that point.

Ferguson, noting to a reporter that the record is not sufficiently clear to permit any findings, added:

"It will be up to the subcommittee to decide whether to undertake a further investigation."

But Pepper, who clashed with Ferguson several times during Hughes' testimony, said:

"I take the position that this is not an issue for the subcommittee or the full committee to decide. Any additional action would be up to the Senate or the Department of Justice."

Brewster, meanwhile, had a quick retort to Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) who predicted in a statement that tightened laws against lobbying "will be among what he called the 'unexpected benefits of the new blowup.'"

Brewster said: "I have repeatedly said that a thorough-going investigation of lobbying was entirely in order."

O'Mahoney also said the law requiring lobbyists to register should be "tightened" to require identification of the origin of many bills introduced in Congress, adding: "Nobody has ever been able to find out who wrote the Pan-American international monopoly bill."

Brewster, co-author of the measure which would limit U. S. overseas air operations to a single company, formed by all interested air lines, replied:

"Eight members of Congress have joined in introducing and sponsoring it; Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) could be called the 'father' of it."

In a speech at a Grange meeting last night, the Maine senator said: "We've just begun to fight" the Hughes charges.

"If Mr. Hughes is innocent of all wrong doing," Brewster demanded, "why does he spend thousands of dollars on a high power publicity staff to attack others rather than to answer the simple question of what the government is going to get in return for $40,000,000?"

The answer to date is nothing. Hughes holds contracts for a 200-ton flying boat which has yet to fly and for a photo-reconnaissance plane, the first model of which crashed on a test flight a year ago. The second model still is being tested.

Another Blast Delivered

Los Angeles, Aug. 13 (AP)—Howard Hughes, tired and unshaven, landed his personal plane here last night after flying from Washington, D. C. But he wasn't too weary to come up with another verbal blast at Sen. Owen Brewster (R-Me.), chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee.

"The press and public have my undying gratitude," Hughes told reporters at his Culver City air field. "It was they who made it impossible for Senator Brewster to continue his gestapo methods. He has an unlimited capacity to hit below the belt. I know he will be in my hair for the rest of my life."

The multi-millionaire plane and movie maker said it was "logical to assume" that Republicans plotted the investigation of his wartime contracts with the government to smear the name of President Roosevelt. He added that he, and the workers at his plant, had given their best to the War Production Program. He said that if the hearing is resumed in November "it will only be to save face."

"We may not have succeeded but we certainly did all that was possible," said the flier. "The Hercules flying boat (The contract for which had drawn Congressional fire) should be completed this winter. I hope it will fly but I didn't say it's going to fly."

Referring to Senator Brewster's assertion that Hughes' film "The Outlaw," starring Jane Russell, was of questionable moral value for a wartime production, Hughes said:

"The picture was completed before the war. The old boy is wrong again."

Hughes, asked by newsmen about a statement by Brewster that the plane manufacturer had repeatedly asked the Senate Committee to drop its investigation, replied: "If Senator Brewster can find that in the testimony I'll buy him a box of candy."

Regarding the whereabouts of his publicity man, Johnny Meyer, Hughes said: "I don't know where he is and I didn't know when they asked me about it in Washington. I didn't try to find out because I wanted to be able to testify truthfully that I didn't know where he was."

Hughes said Meyer is still on his payroll.

The manager of the building said Gabrello had lived there 15 years, but nobody knew he was keeping any pets.

Shot at Stewart

Sgt. Fred Viano, local Purple Heart veteran, who earned five battle stars in World War 2, is in the West Point Hospital suffering from gunshot wounds he received at Stewart Field Monday night, during a change of guard, according to information furnished by his mother.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Viano of 90 Wall street and with his wife and two children lives at the Loughran Park veterans housing project.

Authorities at Stewart Field announced that a normal investigation is being conducted, but said that no one was held. Sgt. Viano's injuries are considered minor, it was added.

Prior to his recent enlistment for 18 months more than a year ago Sgt. Viano saw 27 months' service in the European Theatre of Operations out of over four years in the army. During World War 2 he was wounded in Germany and besides the Purple Heart has the Bronze and Silver Stars in addition to five battle stars.

leagues are flying south "in the interest of what is very important in the world of today—the solidarity of the Western Hemisphere nations."

Austin said the "unique thing about the Western Hemisphere is the development of unity out of disunity."

He called the forthcoming conference of foreign ministers the "second chapter in the Act of Chapultepec, with endless possibilities for world peace."

The Act of Chapultepec, drafted in Mexico in 1945, was a plan for integrating the solidarity of the Western Hemisphere through military and political cooperation.

The Rio conference, which Mr. Truman himself may address when he attends the closing phases, was called to write a formal military defense treaty for this hemisphere.

'Working for Peace'

Mr. Truman told Secretary Marshall and his colleagues that they are today as they have been in the past working for peace in the world, particularly in the Western Hemisphere.

Austin said the "U. N. needs this spirit of the Western Hemisphere."

"The American republics have a great start in the United Nations," he declared, adding: "They are a strong element in the harmony and unity that are needed for future world peace."

Asserting that the "spirit of Mexico City" is being carried to the Rio conference, Austin said: "This is very hopeful for the United Nations—that this regional organization be strong, and contribute to the abolition of war."

Senator Vandenberg said "I anticipate that Rio will restore active Pan-American unity—all for one and one for all against any Western Hemisphere aggression."

"I also anticipate that Rio will set an excellent example to our parent organization, the United Nations, as to how peace-loving neighbors, big or little, should cooperate."

As the delegates boarded the original Presidential plane, the Sacred Cow, Mr. Truman waved goodbye, and called out:

"I am going to get out of the way and let you go to Rio. Goodbye and good luck."

Senator Vandenberg suggested that the President "not wait too long" before flying to Rio.

Mr. Truman laughed as he said that he would come "whenever you tell me it is time."

Accompanied by Staff

The President was accompanied to the airport by members of his staff, including John R. Steelman, special assistant; Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, military aide; Captain Clark Clifford, naval aide; and Charles G. Ross, press secretary.

Shortly before the delegation boarded the Presidential DC-4, Brazilian Ambassador Carlos Martins welcomed them on behalf of his government, which is acting as host to the conference.

The Sacred Cow left the airport at 8:16 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

Mr. Truman himself will fly to the Brazilian Capital later this month or early in September to address one of the final sessions of the conference, called to write a formal military defense treaty for this hemisphere.

The conference will be the first meeting of the Foreign Ministers of the American Republics since 1942 when they gathered to declare their unity in the war against the Axis.

The foundation for the Rio assemblage was laid two years ago at Mexico City. At that time the Act of Chapultepec was drafted to meet the problems of war and peace facing the nations of the new world.

Austin, as a member then of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, helped with the Act of Chapultepec.

Although a veteran of many international huddles, the Brazilian meeting will mark Vandenberg's first actual conference table work.

with Marshall since the former army chief of staff succeeded James F. Byrnes as Secretary of State.

Senator Connally (Tex.) and Rep. Bloom (N.Y.), Democratic members of the bipartisan foreign policy team, went to Brazil by boat 10 days ago.

Already the Brazilian capital preparing for the session are Assistant Secretary of State Norman Armour and a staff of technicians and advisers.

Marshall chose Armour, a veteran career diplomat with years of service in Latin America, to replace Spruille Braden as Assistant Secretary of State.

The War Department sent one of its top generals—Spanish-speaking Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, chairman of the Inter-American Defense Board and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's personal representative on the United Nations Military Staff Committee.

The Navy assigned Rear Admiral Marshall N. Greer of its Pan-American Division, to advise the U. S. delegation of naval problems in writing the treaty.

That document will define aggression from within or outside the hemisphere and will describe means for meeting and putting down any aggressor who threatens the peace of the United American Republics.

It is expected to provide that two-thirds of the governments must approve before any action is taken against any future aggressor, and there will be no big power veto.

Man Gone, Also Watches

Omaha, Aug. 12 (AP)—He was a nice tenant while he lasted, Mrs. Victor Julian told police. The "nice and neatly dressed" man took the room in the morning. During the forenoon he washed, chatted with his landlady and rested. At noon he went out to eat, but not before asking Mrs. Julian if he could bring her some ice cream. He hasn't been seen since, the landlady complained. And neither have two wrist watches, a platinum ring and $37 belonging to her other tenants.

I SAY WHAT I THINK

By Bill Helper

What a pill I turned out to be at the card party last night! I found myself in the company of much better players, and tried my damndest to keep up. It was a grim business, and soon the others got infected. At first we were still polite, but as the game wore on, there wasn't a smile in a carload. We played as if the fate of the world depended on it—and soon we broke up. It wasn't any fun.

But our hostess—bless her—saved the day. There was a spread of elegant snacks. Dainty sandwiches with cold cuts of smoked meats from HUPPERT'S MARKET, 59 North Front St., the tastiest assortment of delicacies I've had for a long time. Served on ceramic plates of greenish-blue ceramic (WINTER'S, 326 Wall St.), they made us four-faced dead-heads smile with joy again. The knives and forks deserve special mention—from SCHNEIDER & SON, Broadway Theatre Bldg., of the most intriguing golden metal you have ever seen. I'm sure they weren't cheap, either; but, whatever the cost, they made us feel like kings of old . . . A few drinks—made with the things our hostess got from FINE'S LIQUOR STORE, 240 Clinton Ave., mellowed us still further, and I was glad that my faux pas was glossed over so lightly. But all credit must go to the hostess, who graced the party in a truly glamorous housecoat from NUGENT'S, 317 Wall St. Only last week she had spilled a whole plate of soup on it and was really heartbroken. The dress had some intricate frills and pleats that sometimes come out like hair after dry cleaning. But the GOV. CLINTON CLEANER, 15 Albany Ave., took care of it, but good! To me it looked as good as new . . .

Before we went home there was coffee and cake from KETTERER'S, on 584 Broadway. Good as the cake was, the hostess—clever mix—improved it with a few dabs of really delicious pineapple ice cream from TEETSEL'S, 608 Washington Ave. So the evening was quite enjoyable after all.

But the next time I play a game—I'll tell myself: Remember, brother, this is a GAME. It's supposed to be fun. So smile, darn you, smile! And if you can't laugh, even when you lose—don't play. Sit down and read a good book.

Mayone Joins Staff Of Ulster Veterans Service as Adviser

John Ray Mayone, an ex-marine with three years of service during World War 2, two of which were spent overseas, has accepted a position as a veteran adviser with the Ulster County Veterans Service Agency, officials of that organization announced today.

Mr. Mayone is a past commandant of the Ulster Detachment of the Marine Corps League, and is an active member of the American Legion and the V.F.W. The most public of his activities was his leadership in a movement last year to obtain a veterans' housing project. He has also acted as leader for firing squads for deceased veterans' funerals for both the Marine Corps League and the American Legion. Taking an active part in Y.M.C.A. work, he served as a co-chairman on the last Y.M.C.A. drive. He was also chairman of the last Ulster County U.S.O. Fund drive.

A graduate of the Kingston High School, after which he completed one and one half years of business school, he joined the Marine Corps and served for two years in the South Pacific. Following his honorable discharge from the service, he was engaged in the real estate business.

In a statement following his appointment to the new position, Mr. Mayone said, "I am very happy to be a part of this Veterans Service Agency. The state counselors and the director, Mr. Shurter, are men who are sincere and untiring in their efforts to help Ulster county veterans. It will be a pleasure and an honor to work with these men in giving any and every kind of assistance to veterans of this locality."

Playhouse Offers Good Fare With Glass Menagerie

Woodstock, Aug. 13—An excellent presentation of The Glass Menagerie by Tennessee Williams was given to a receptive audience at the Woodstock Playhouse last evening.

The play is an extremely interesting one and different from any so far seen in Woodstock this season. The director, for doing what is necessary for a livelier rather than what is desired, the refusal to accept reality, the spirit of confidence and the ivory tower solace are all expertly portrayed in this realistic two act play which depicts certain foibles of human nature.

The role of Amanda, the mother of an impoverished family is a difficult one but Frances Bavier handles the part expertly, as she charmingly lapses into frequent reminiscence of her happy girlhood days when the difficulties of managing for a grown son and crippled daughter, become too many for her.

Don McHenry is called upon to portray many emotions as the narrator at times and Tom Wingfield, the son. Both of these parts were extremely well done by Don. Marsh McLeod was very appealing in her winsome characterization of Laura Wingfield, the crippled daughter.

In the supporting role of Jim O'Connor, the gentleman caller, Cort Steen radiated confidence and optimism.

The illusion of a brick wall curtain and alley in the scene was cleverly designed by Albert Heschong.

Savory, staged the Glass Menagerie which will be enjoyed by audiences at the Playhouse through Sunday.

Fourth Art Show Gains Prominent National Notice

Woodstock, Aug. 13 — The fourth exhibition of the Woodstock Artists Association which closes today has received much attention from many prominent personalities in art circles, one of whom is Emily A. Francis, President of the Contemporary Art Gallery, Inc. of New York and President of the Collectors of American Art, Inc.

Miss Francis expressed great interest in the work of Woodstock artists, and commented on the fact that "Eugene Ludens had his first one man show with our gallery. He is a good painter." The Magafan twins, Joseph and Alfred, and Alf Stromstead have also been sponsored by the Contemporary Arts Gallery. From the conversation had with Miss Francis, it is likely that Harry Tedlie will have a one-man show with them later this year. She was very much impressed with Thomas Penning's work and signified a desire to meet the sculptor and see more of his work.

In describing the aims of Collectors of American Art, Inc. a non-profit membership organization to promote work in ship of paintings, sculpture and graphic arts by living American artists and is a modern prototype of the American Art Union which had its beginning in 1839 and which grew in one decade to a membership of 18,960. This society equipped and encouraged worthy American artists of their day through the purchase and distribution of their work.

"Can we not do as well or even better for American artists of our day, whose works promise to live and be an asset to American culture," said this untiring friend of the artists.

Are Given Opportunity

Collectors of American Art, Inc. are artists looking for people who do mature creative work but who have not gained full recognition as fine artists. When discovered, these artists are given an opportunity to exhibit, then arrange for a museum exhibition, and continue their sponsorship until the artist has received the recognition deserved. They have so far introduced about 100 painters who have made good. In this group are included John Kane of international prominence, Jan Corbino, Louis Bosa.

No effort is too great apparently on the part of the organization to go to the public interested in owning works of art. It is their belief that "anyone who once owns an original work of art, will own more."

So many people who appreciate art feel that ownership is only for those of substantial means. Miss Francis feels that this idea is a great mistake and one which they are overcoming through their organization, membership which entitles one to an original work of art including a print (limited edition), a painting, or a piece of sculpture in December of each year. The present membership list includes every state in the United States, West Africa, South Africa, Brazil, Canada, and some other countries. Membership which includes privileges other than receiving a fine work of art once a year, is only five dollars.

Miss Francis stressed the fact that everyone connected with collectors is on an entirely voluntary basis and the work done by this group is "done in time fished from other full-time work." The officers and directors of this group besides Miss Francis are Mrs. William A. Bridge, vice-president; Richard H. M. Pleasant, vice-president; J. Hamilton Conliffe, chairman; Norman E. Davidson, treasurer; Mrs. James Sargent, secretary; Mrs. Walter E. Anderson, Roger de Got, Mrs. Colin G. Girvan, Paul Montgomery, William E. Sanford, and Max Taylor. Before concluding the interview, with Miss Francis, she stated that "a virile art denotes a virile people, and a cultural country is never decadent, so that in working for art we are working for our country in a most vital way. Incidentally, it is becoming extremely obvious that men visit galleries more than women—a complete reversal of the times when a man was more or less ashamed to be interested in art, and an artist was looked upon as a freak."

The fifth exhibition at the Woodstock Art Gallery will open with a preview Saturday afternoon, August 16th, and continue to August 30th. Water colors, graphic arts, and small sculpture selected by jury will be shown.

Residents of Kingston were cautioned today not to contribute money to solicitors representing themselves as selling magazine and newspaper subscriptions so that the publications will be available to ex-servicemen in Veterans Administration hospitals in New York state.

Edward O'Dell, contact representative in charge of the Kingston V.A. office, said the V. A. does not authorize the collection of funds in behalf of hospitalized veterans. He said that funds are available at all veterans hospitals to pay for subscriptions to periodicals.

During recent months, Mr. O'Dell reported, residents of many Kingston state communities have called V. A. offices inquiring as to the validity of requests for donations alleged to be made in behalf of those in various hospitals. Persons soliciting funds on this basis, he said, are not acting for the Veterans Administration and the V. A. in no way endorses their requests for contribution or the product they offer in return for money.

He advised inquiries regarding solicitors be directed to the local business bureau office, which is located on Fair street. He further emphasized that the Veterans Administration welcomes the efforts of the community in behalf of hospitalized veterans and said his warning is intended to protect well-meaning citizens against being exploited by unscrupulous promoters.

Hashrouck Dance Enjoys Next One At Cornell Park

Remarks heard among approximately 1,000 people at the Monday night dance in Hashrouck Park were very complimentary about the music furnished by Ole Christensen's orchestra. According to Harry L. Edson, Kingston recreation director.

In announcing that Monday's dance was very much enjoyed by participants and spectators mostly from the Ponckhockie section, Director Edson advised that there would be a similar feature this evening, from 8 to 10 p. m. at Cornell Park, with Martie Kelly's band furnishing the music.

For the Cornell dance, the recreation department will rope off Hunter street, between Wurts and Post streets. "We ask that automobilists kindly cooperate and refrain from using Hunter street during the evening," Director Edson said.

Miss Mavis Lee Schoonmaker Wed Sunday To F. L. Protoss at High Falls Church

High Falls, Aug. 13.—Miss Mavis Lee Schoonmaker and Fordham Lewis Protoss, both of this village, were united in marriage at St. John's Episcopal Church here Sunday at 4 p. m. by the Rev. Robert Ward, rector, who performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Schoonmaker and the bridegroom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Protoss, both families being local residents. Mrs. Hubert Smith was soloist for the nuptials, singing O Perfect Love; O Lord Most Holy and Amen, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Ganse Beach. Church decorations were of white gladioli and asters with bouquets tied with satin bows and streamers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown with white satin bodice, sweetheart neckline, embroidered in seed pearls, sleeves of satin, a skirt of marquisette over net ending in a sweeping train. Her finger-tip veil was of illusion, edged in lace with a tulle of seed pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of asters and baby's breath with streamers and tiny button asters.

Doris Edith Countryman of Johnston avenue, Kingston, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor wore a gown of pale blue chiffon with full skirt, a square neckline and long sleeves. She wore a tulle of pink flowers in her shoulder veil of pale blue net to match her gown. Her bouquet was of pink roses with streamers and pink button asters.

Carlton B. King Speaks at Ulster Garden Club Meeting

Carlton B. King, county assistant in the agriculture conservation department, was guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Ulster Garden Club held at the home of Mrs. Howard E. Lewis, 12 West Chestnut street.

Mr. King used as his topic, "Conservation in Ulster County," and touched on various topics which proved interesting to his audience. The speaker offered good points for farmers in his talk on the preservation of land.

He stressed the point that when lumbermen go into the woods to cut down trees, that they should also clear away the brush in order to avoid serious forest fires. Mr. King said it was a usual occurrence to find brush cluttered in the forest and that the practice was a great fire hazard.

The speaker also spoke of the proper method of caring for the soil during the winter months.

Following the talk a social meeting was held in charge of Mrs. William Hasbrouck, Mrs. Richard Thibault and Miss Katherine Hasbrouck.

The next meeting is scheduled Tuesday, August 26 at the home of Mrs. Frances Legett, Stone Ridge. The program will be based on "Nature's Design for Beauty."

Will Picnic Thursday.

The Helping Hand Society will hold a picnic Thursday at Forsyth Park. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock. In case of rain, the affair will be held at the lodge rooms, corner Broadway and Brewster street.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

TRAVELING WITH FIANCEE

Of all the subjects that come within the unlimited range of good taste, those I like least to write about are the various questions of the proprieties between girls and boys, because the personal equation enters so much into each of these questions. For example, a letter asks: "Would it be permissible for me to travel with my fiancé to visit his parents? It is a twelve-hour journey. My father insists it would not be proper but he said he'd give in on my say-so. Would it make any difference if by car or train?"

Taking it for granted that an invitation has been sent to you from your fiancé's mother, it is entirely proper to travel even a great distance with him by train. Remember that all of the other passengers in a Pullman Coach are unavoidable compelled to serve as chaperones. Going by car leaves you less protected from Mrs. Grundy's imaginings, no matter how far above criticism your behavior may be.

Table Service

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer and I disagree on several matters regarding table service, and as she goes by your word will you answer the two points in question: (1) Should the table be crumbed after each course? (2) When coffee is served at the table, should a cup be refilled at the table or taken away and brought back?

Answer: (1) No, only before dessert. (2) A cup usually is refilled at the table, but there is no rule for this.

Introducing Brother-in-Law

Dear Mrs. Post: Would you please tell me whether or not my wife's sister's husband is my brother-in-law? If not how should I introduce him?

Answer: When you have no reason to suppose anyone is particularly interested in your exact relationship you quite properly introduce him as your brother-in-law. To those possibly interested, you explain that he is sister-in-law's husband, or Julia's husband, or whatever is most clear.

Is it improper to wear veils in the evening? This is one of the 35 questions answered in Mrs. Post's leaflet, "An Etiquette Test." To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Savory meat loaf, hot or sliced cold, saves cooking in hot weather.

Meat Loaf Turns in Double Duty Performance

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Staff Writer

Hot for tonight's dinner, cold for tomorrow—one preparation and one cooking—that's the welcome warm weather story of meat loaf.

Beef liver is among the low cost meats. Don't worry about whether the family will like liver in this form or not. They will.

Herb Liver Loaf

(Serves 8)

One and one-half pounds beef liver, 2 cups boiling water, 4 slices bacon, 1 medium-sized onion, 2 eggs, beaten, 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon powdered marjoram, 1/4 teaspoon powdered basil.

Simmer liver in boiling water 5 minutes. Drain reserving 1 1/2 cups liquid. Put liver, bacon and onion through food chopper, using finest knife. Beat eggs. Add liver liquid, crumbs and seasoning. Combine with ground meat and onion, mixing thoroughly. Lightly pack into greased loaf pan, 8x4x4 inches, lining bottom with heavy paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until firm, about 50 minutes. Serve with rich tomato sauce. For a browner loaf, turn out on broiling-serving platter. Brush lightly with a blend of 2 tablespoons fat and 1 teaspoon of kitchen bouquet. Place in preheated broiler, under moderate heat, until loaf is crisp and brown, about 5 minutes. Top of loaf should be about 4 inches from source of heat. Or return to oven until loaf has crusty brown look, about 10 minutes.

One and one-half pounds chopped veal, 1/2 pound chopped pork, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1/4 teaspoon onion salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 2 eggs, 1 cup catsup, 1/3 cup bread crumbs, dry sifted, 1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 bunch watercress.

Blend together veal, pork, and seasonings. Add eggs, catsup and bread crumbs and mix thoroughly. Shape into a loaf and place in a well-greased pan, 9x4x2 inches. Blend kitchen bouquet or Worcestershire sauce into soft fat. Brush over the entire surface of the meat loaf. Bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees F.) for 1 hour. Cool. Slice into 12 servings. Garnish with short cut sprays of watercress.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, soft-cooked eggs, enriched toast thin pancakes, butter or fortified margarine, marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Flaked white fish salad with thin strips of green pepper, lettuce and sliced tomatoes, warmed French bread, butter or fortified margarine, sliced peaches, cream, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Liver loaf, tomato sauce, mashed potatoes, buttered corn and lima beans, green salad, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, Bavarian cream garnished with fresh raspberries, coffee milk.

Savory meat loaf, hot or sliced cold, saves cooking in hot weather.

Preacher Wills $25,000 Farm to Mrs. Roosevelt

Greenville, Tenn., Aug. 13 (AP)—A southern preacher-farmer, described by friends as a lifelong Democrat in a Republican stronghold, has willed Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt his almost inaccessible 150-acre farm valued unofficially at about $25,000.

Friends said the Rev. A. E. Starnes, whose will was filed for probate in circuit court here yesterday, always had admired the Roosevelts from afar. He named the late president as executor of his estate.

In Portland, Me., Mrs. Roosevelt's secretary, Miss Malvina Thompson, said she did not recall any correspondence between the family and Starnes. Asked if Mrs. Roosevelt knew Starnes, she said "not that I know of."

The will directed that Mrs. Roosevelt should get all Starnes' land and property with the exception of five acres on which stands the Starnes Sunrise Church. Starnes never affiliated with any denomination.

One Saved, Other Drowns

Yonkers, N. Y., Aug. 13 (AP)—An 11-year-old girl drowned in the Hudson river yesterday while a crowd of 50 persons watched a woman bather rescue another girl who had tried to save her companion.

Barbara Barteski, of Yonkers, was pronounced dead more than an hour after her body was taken from the river by a power boat operator. Agnes Mc-Clemmehy, 11, also of Yonkers, was treated on the beach after she tried to swim out to the Barteski girl and became exhausted. She was rescued by Mrs. Helen Sobierajski, 30, of Yonkers.

Vandenberg Plans To Kill Movement

Senator Will Not Attempt to Become President, Friends Say

Washington, Aug. 13 (AP)—Senator Arthur Vandenberg was said today to be planning to chill the new grass-roots movement developing in Michigan to draft him for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination.

Although the Michigan senator himself declined comment, friends said the chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee will make it plain when he returns from the Rio de Janeiro inter-American conference that he does not intend to be even a darkhorse candidate.

Hence the new movement may hasten an expected Vandenberg announcement urging that the state's 41 delegates be sent uncommitted to the Philadelphia G.O.P. convention next year.

The Michigan senator forecast such a move when he told his party's state convention last February it ought to be looking around outside Michigan for a presidential candidate.

Associates here said Vandenberg feels that any avowals of presidential candidacy would embarrass his championship, in and out of Congress, of the bipartisan foreign policy he played a major role in developing.

Kresge Outing Enjoyed

Employees of the S. S. Kresge Company were entertained at an all-day outing last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Herman von Ahnen of Hickorybush. Mrs. von Ahnen is employed as cook at the Kresge fountain. After a picnic lunch the group enjoyed swimming and games and in the evening, following refreshments, there was music and dancing. The day's outing was enjoyed by 30 employees and their guests.

One parking space is required for every three workers in industrial plants, according to a recent survey.

Strike Is Called A.F.L. Union

Unlicensed Personnel Form Their Picket Lines

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—A strike which a union spokesman said affects 4,500 to 5,000 unlicensed personnel employed by the Isthmian Steamship Company was called today by the A.F.L. Seafarers International Union.

Picket lines were established shortly after midnight at piers where Isthmian ships are berthed, and some members of other maritime unions were reported refusing to cross the S.I.U. line.

J. T. Shuler, chairman of the S.I.U. negotiating committee, announced the strike and said it followed failure of the company to agree directly to union demands for agreement in principle on the issues of a union hiring hall and rotary shipping system.

Shuler, secretary-treasurer of the Atlantic and Gulf District of the S.I.U., said the strike involves about 100 ships.

A union hiring hall empowers the union to supply all workers, and the rotary shipping system involves the assignment of men in rotation.

Dodgers Lose, 3-2; Carbondale Wins as Lead Shrinks to 5½ Games

Double Header Opens Vital Series at Stadium Tonight

With their league lead sliced to 5½ games by losing to Stroudsburg Tuesday, 3-2, the Kingston Dodgers return to the friendly confines of municipal stadium tonight in the do-or-die series with the growling Carbondale Pioneer Blues who are hot on the trail of the local club in a pitch battle for the North Atlantic League pennant.

Tonight's first game of the doubleheader will get underway at 6:30 p. m., and indications are that a packed house will be on hand to watch the "cross-hatch" series between these two ball clubs. Kingston lost valuable ground last night by dropping a 3 to 2 squeaker to Stroudsburg when the home club pushed across the deciding run in the bottom half of the eighth frame. Kingston had taken a 2-0 lead in the second but Stroudsburg came back fast to knot the count at 2-all in the third.

Wins 14th Game

Rothenshauser, who went all the way for Stroudsburg last night, notched his 14th win of the North Atlantic League season. He permitted six hits, fanned six and issued four walks. Harry Hintz, Dodger pitcher, also went the route and pitched commendable ball. He also allowed a half dozen bingles, fanned eight and walked four.

Hintz himself cracked the important blow which helped the Dodgers to rack up two markers in the second when he unleashed a triple driving in two runs. The only other Kingston extra-base clout was by Knobby Ross. Seber, who replaced O'Leary in right field when the latter took over the catching duties for Stroudsburg, delivered the payoff blow in the eighth inning when he doubled in a run to make it a 3-2 count.

In other league games last night Nazareth, in 11 innings, defeated Bloomingdale by 9-8. Carl Swatski, Bloomingdale catcher, swatted his 32nd homer of the year. Nyack and Mahanoy City divided a twin-bill with Nyack winning the opener by 8-0 while Mahanoy City took the nightcap 11-6. Carbondale nipped Pecks-kill by 4 to 3 to gain the full game of the pace-setting Dodgers.

Crucial Dodger-Carbondale Series Opens Here Tonight

A crucial four-game series with the second place Carbondale Pioneer Blues which opens tonight at municipal stadium affords the Kingston Dodgers a chance to break the N.A.L. pennant race wide open.

The Dodgers hold a 5½ game edge over the Pennsylvania tossers and a sweep of the series would reduce the remainder of the schedule to a mere formality.

Manager George Pratt has his first line fingers—Dan Bennett, Harry Hintz, Alton Gilbert and Ted Seddon—ready for the series.

Manager Pat Colgin's Blues will feature three standout players—catcher Jim Pardo, rated the best in the circuit; shortstop Emil Mayer and Jack Pizzo, heavy-hitting third sacker. The top Carbondale fingers are Al Zickowitz, Munson, Piscotti and Jaworski. All four are expected to work against the Dodgers.

After a pair of twinbills with Carbondale, the Dodgers slip to Bloomingdale for a one-night stand on Friday and then return for a single game Saturday, "Family Night" against Nyack and a doubleheader on Sunday.

A Duffer's Week-End:

Or why many a man has grown old ahead of schedule trying to snare the elusive par. . . Woolworth got rich by marking down articles from a dollar to 98 and 99. . . It was great sales psychology, but when you mark up your score to that level you'd better spend more time with the local pro. . . He keeps his figures at even 00s. . . Another pleasant trip to Walt Thiel's Catskill Country Club layout. . . This par-74 course is an exciting test for the duffer. . . Paired with Ralph Gardiner we lost three points. . . That's all you're permitted to drop in any single engagement. . . Met a grand old man of golf, 72-year-old Walter "Pop" Harring. . . He shot his incoming nine in 41, four over par. . . Twice we had him apparently licked on a hole with a par-4 when he holed out from 50 for an even break. . . It was a pleasure to watch Mr. Harring threadneedle the middle of the fairways. . . Guess the venerable gent hasn't sliced in 30 years.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Donald Williams is looking for a special attraction for a business men's gathering at Wiltwyck Club in a few days. . . If it could be worked, the best trick we know is a Carl Husta vs. anybody-in-town 18-hole duel. . . Better still maybe a foursome made up of Alex Gerlak-John Van Gonsic and Tommy Danaher and Carl. . . Schick and Eddie Modjeska will have to play off their Hudson River Golf Association Senior tie within a week. . . Paul Wiss, secretary of the HRGA, ruled that the playoff will be for medal score. . . In that event, we pick Schick to win. . . The old Cornellian is a cold, calculating performer in medal play. . . Modjeska is a moody, temperamental guy who has hellish holes now and then. . . In medal play that's disastrous. . . The playoff should be one of the highlights of the local golf calendar. . . Golfers, please don't try to break us down to divulge the name of that now famous "baby sitter". . . It's the top-drawer secret of the year.

The Nineteenth Hole:

Senator Arthur Wicks had a smile that wide when he came in with a medal score low enough to qualify him for low net in Class B in the HRGA tournament. . . The Senator is hitting a fine ball these days. . . Clubhouse cronies at Wiltwyck rate Clayton Smith as one of the best putters in the business. . . Is Al Schmidt's game slumping a bit? . . . Bob Herzog came up with the best score of his career, an 88, the other day. . . The match between Bob and Carl Husta we mentioned a while back had nothing to do with the relative skill of the performers. . . Everyone knows Bob is no match for Carl but when it comes to bartering and outting up around the greens there isn't much to choose between the pair. . . Husta never lets the rule book bother him. . . He has repeated many times that there's nothing there that prohibits a man from talking to himself. . . even while he's putting.

The Tournament Circuit:

Mrs. Jessie Burnett, defending champion, fired a brilliant 83 to pace the early qualifiers for the club championship tournament at Wiltwyck. . . Other scores: the Misses Hutton, Britt and Kennedy 107, 100, 105 respectively, Helen Trowbridge 98, Mrs. Jim Winters 132 and Mrs. J. Whitmore 107. . . Young Bill Van Aken listed a goaly 78 to top the male division. . . Other qualifiers: Ken Davenport 90, Bill Newkirk 87, Ray LeFevre 89, Maurice Davenport 84, Ed Tongue 87, Art Davis 97, J. W. Bailey 96, Lou Bruhn 87, Stan Winne 91, Dr. Chet Van Gassebeck 91, C. E. Wonderly 91, 84, Harry Wieber 89, A. J. Anderson 91, Stan Hankinson 95, Henry Wood 87, Frank Stone 90, Ernie LeFevre 88, Al Schmidt 102, Jim Winters 94, Bill Zwick 94, Abe Streifer 94, Claude Needes 88, Henry York 88, Ed Schoonmaker 86, Rube Leventhal 92.

President Roy Sullivan and tournament chairman, Lou Smith, of Wiltwyck, were pleased with the response for the first "Men's Day". . . It will be repeated Thursday.

"MULLIGAN" MIKE says: Justice Harry Schrick ties for a major golf title and there wasn't a bique in sight believe it or not.

Manufacturers Are To Hold Meeting At Wiltwyck Club

Following an afternoon of golf and sports events, a Roundtable Conference to explain the "Tax-Harley Bill" will feature the program. Reservations may be made at the Chamber of Commerce. All manufacturers in Kingston and vicinity, whether members of the Chamber or not are invited to attend.

Assisting Mr. Rochford in the plans are Ben. N. Ashton, Joseph J. Carroll, James A. Dwyer, Frederick J. K. Ertel, Floyd Flint, Joseph Horne, S. D. Hiltbrand, Abraham Mandel, Bernard Parker, C. S. Rowland, Francis J. Schilling, and A. B. Shufeldt. This committee is being assisted with arrangements at Wiltwyck by Claude Needes, and Alfred Schmid.

Dodgers Plan Family Night

Business Manager Paul Taylor of the Kingston Dodgers announced today that a "Family Night" will be held in conjunction with the Nyack game at municipal stadium Saturday night.

All members of a single family—father, mother and all the children, regardless of number—will be admitted on a $1 ticket. A program of field events will precede the contest. Taylor said the idea has proved very successful in other cities and he issued a cordial welcome to all Kingston families to attend the game.

Morgan's Ace Southpaw

BUD SWARTHOUT

Veteran portside who climaxed three weeks of intensive pitching by stopping Chez Emile with 3 hits as Morgan's Restaurant clinched third place in the City Baseball League. Swarthout has been around a long time but like that famous lager he seems to mellow with age. He will be Morgan's principal hope in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

Seddon Leads N.A.L. Pitchers In Percentages With 10 and 2

Lanky Ted Seddon, of the Kingston Dodgers, has taken over first place in the pitching percentages of the North Atlantic League, with a record of 10 wins and 2 losses, according to latest official statistics. Munson, of Carbondale, has won five and lost one for .833 the same as Seddon but has figured in only seven games.

Hank Neighbors, of the Dodgers, sidelined for the past several days due to a shoulder injury, retains third place with 10 wins and 3 setbacks. Alton Gilbert, another Kingston twirler, is in the top brackets with 12 wins and five defeats, only one victory less than the 13 boasted by Joe Seber, the Stroudsburg Peconics workhorse.

Ken Braun, has an 11-6 record, while Dan Bennett is credited with five straight wins, although his record is incomplete. Curtis of Nazareth, boasts a 12-5 mark.

Seber, of Stroudsburg, dominates the pitching statistics despite the lowly standing of the Peconics. The smooth wheeling southpaw has appeared in 24 games, pitching the most innings, 175, permitted 131 hits, issued 75 walks, hurled 17 complete games and fanning 192 men in 175 innings.

Broskie Cracks 699; Summer League Ends in Two-Way Tie

The Summer Classic League brought down the curtain for the campaign this week with final standings showing a two-way tie for first place between Jones Dairy and the C. & C. Market.

Both clubs wound up the regular season with 25 wins and 17 losses. The Hofbrau and WKNY also finished in a deadlock for third place with 24 victories as against 18 losses.

The biggest news in the final schedule was dashed up by Harold Broskie, WKNY twirler, who nearly entered the 700 Club with a terrific score of 699. Broskie opened with a 233 single, came back with a middle game of 221 and wound up the night with a 245.

Two other gaudy 600 series also featured the windup this week. Dick Howard of the Mt. Marion squad fashioned a neat 678 series on scores of 245-242-191. Johnny Ferraro splashed the Central Rec leagues for a 666 three-timer with a run of 201-240-225.

Gruenewald Shoots 258

Charlie Gruenewald, veteran kegger for the Jones Dairy combine, rolled up the biggest single score of the closing night with his 258. Charlie wound up with a 625

Mixed Leaguers Set For Closing Matches

Rose Schatzel, president of the Summer Mixed League, announced today that all dues for the Hi-Lo doubles and all other dues must be paid tonight at the final round of matches for the league. A meeting will follow the matches to make plans for the post-season banquet next week.

Clubs Meet Again Friday; Morgan's, Jones Thursday

After battling for seven innings Chez Emile and Boulevard Gulf wound up their sudden death battle for the Shaughnessy playoffs Tuesday night; practically where they started as the scoreboard read 1-1.

Chez Emile, scoring one run in the first, protected its slim lead until the fourth when Boulevard Gulf tied it at 1-all. Both clubs were scoreless for the remainder of the game.

Meet Again Friday

This morning Warren Smith, president of the City League, said that the clubs would meet again on Friday night at the Athletic Field to settle the tie ball game. Thursday night's first playoff game between Jones Dairy and Morgan's Restaurant will be held as scheduled. The playoffs will continue next Monday night with the Hofbrau meeting the winner of the Chez Emile-Boulevard Gulf contest.

Joe Jordan, nifty flinger of the Chez Emile nine, hurled another of his sparkling masterpieces last night before a fair sized turnout of City League patrons at the Athletic Field. Jordan limited the Boulevard Gulf club to just three bingles over the seven-inning stint. Joe has now given up just seven hits in his last 19 and one-third innings of pitching.

Chez Emile dented the rubber in the opening frame when Crosby worked Tomson for a free ticket. He went to second on an infield out, stole third and jaced home with the big run when Buddy Smith stroked a single to right.

The score remained 1-0 until the bottom of the fourth when Mike Rizzo greeted Jordan by doubling to left center. The Kingston High School star rode home to knot the ball game on a series of two infield outs.

Looking at all four hands and actually playing a hand are two very different matters. Here is a hand that I watched at several tables in a recent duplicate game. Most of the North-South pairs got to five clubs. They all made it, although it was defended in two different ways.

The opening heart lead was won in dummy with the ace, and a small club was led. Some East players decided that West had to have the ace of diamonds to justify the double of five clubs.

Therefore, they went up with the ace of clubs on trick two in order to lead back the singleton deuce of diamonds, hoping to get a diamond ruff and set the contract. Of course, they caught their partner's queen, and West did not have the ace of diamonds. So the contract was made.

Should East have played the ace of clubs at trick two? Undoubtedly a player would need a few seconds to decide this question, after the small club was led from dummy.

At the tables where East played the deuce of clubs instead of the ace, declarer knew that the only reason for East's hesitation was that he held the ace of clubs.

Therefore, declarer went up with the king and dropped West's queen.

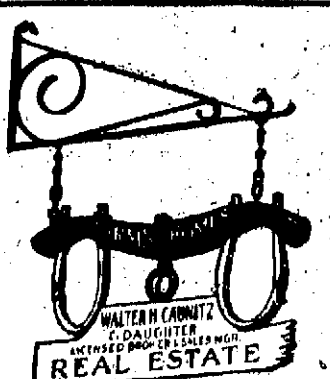

Then he proceeded to trump out his losing diamonds, letting East cash the ace of clubs whenever he wanted to.

Of course, looking at all four hands, we would say that East should have played the deuce of clubs quickly at trick two and de-

Poison Food in Prison
Canon City, Colo., Aug. 13 (AP)—Seventy-eight officers and inmates at the Colorado penitentiary were hospitalized with serious food poisoning but quick action by Canon City physicians prevented what Warden Roy Best termed "a possible loss of life." One guard, Ernest Hightower, remained in critical condition early today and six others of the 38 guards poisoned were still listed as in "serious condition." All 40 convicts affected were reported out of danger.

Flower Oddity

The large, white, funnel-shaped "blossoms" of the calla lily are not true flowers at all, but the outer leaves. The real flowers are tiny, inconspicuous things, crowded together on the club-like spadix, in the center.

POLICE STATION SCUFFLE

It took time but Sgt. Walter Rutter said that a man identified as Louis Bressler was finally booked at Philadelphia on charges of larceny of an automobile. Philips Accuses Police Lieutenant

Self-Styled Bookmaker Says
Officer Asked $50
to Be 'Divided'

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—A self-styled former bookmaker who alleges that police demands for protection money drove him out of business has pointed out to the Bronx district attorney's staff a police lieutenant he said demanded $50 in 1945.

Bronx District Attorney Samuel J. Foley said that the bookmaker, Joseph Philips, whose accusation led to the current grand jury investigation in the Bronx, told him the lieutenant, then a sergeant, had said the money was "to be divided among eight other sergeants."

Philips also pointed out two plain clothes patrolmen he said had taken him to a station house, searched him and then released him, Foley said. All three were pointed out yesterday by Philips when policemen were lined up in Foley's offices for the former bookie to view.

Foley declined to name the three, but said they would be called before the grand jury. A grand jury in Queens is investigating similar accusations in that borough.

Meanwhile, plans are being completed to implement a police drive against gamblers by tightening court procedures. The drive opened 10 days ago.

Mayor William O'Dwyer, after meeting with top law enforcement officials yesterday, said that policemen would be directed to prepare their complaints on the eve of the court cases, so that they could be reviewed for errors before the hearings. Members of the police legal staff will assist the policemen, and efforts will be made to hold to a minimum the time the arresting officers must spend in court and away from their other duties.

Asked about the effectiveness of the anti-gambling drive, the mayor said:

"I don't know what has happened to the gamblers who used to be around, but the players are complaining. There are lots of complaints from the players."

Police officials have said many horse race bookmakers were believed to have left the city when the drive opened.

Gets 10 Days in Jail
Peter Wyne, 59, of Lakewood, N. J., was arrested at Rosendale yesterday by Deputy Sheriff Andrew Ellsworth on a charge of public intoxication. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Edward Brodsky, Rosendale, Wyne was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail.

Hirshberg Counsel May Hit at Board

Challenge of Jurisdiction
May Be Next Move

New York, Aug. 13 (AP)—Counsel for Harold E. Hirshberg, 29-year-old chief signalman who was convicted yesterday by a Navy Court Martial Board of striking two fellow prisoners in Japanese prison camps, says he may challenge the board's jurisdiction in the case.

Lt. Cmdr. John J. O'Neill, the petty officer's counsel, said he was considering having a civilian attorney file a writ of habeas corpus in Federal District Court in Brooklyn. The action would contend that the navy, by giving Hirshberg an honorable discharge March 25, 1946, lost the right to try him for offenses committed before that date. Hirshberg had re-enlisted the next day.

Meanwhile, Hirshberg is awaiting announcement of his sentence by Rear Adm. Monroe Kelly, commandant of the Third Naval District, to whom the board's verdict was sent for review. It is subject to further review by Rear Adm. Archibald Colclough, navy judge advocate general.

A veteran of 11 years in the navy, Hirshberg was convicted of striking Chief Carpenter's Mate

George N. Gaboury, 36, of (28 Prospect street) Webster, Mass., and Chief Boatswain's Mate Robert H. Welch, 26, of (239 East Tecumseh street) Tulsa, Okla. The board acquitted him on seven other specifications, which included allegations that he had informed on prisoners while acting as a work section leader in prison camps in the Philippines.

$150,000 Fire Hits Texas Refinery

Wichita Falls, Texas, Aug. 13 (AP)—Officials of the Panhandle Refinery here today began figuring the losses resulting from a blaze which roared at the plant for nearly four hours yesterday. Starting around noon when a tank of gasoline overflowed and ignited, the fire quickly spread throughout a large part of the installation.

Fire department officials placed the loss at about $150,000. Fire and accompanying small explosions completely destroyed the materials warehouse, ten whole-sale gas tanks, welding and machine shops, the salvage warehouse and an undetermined amount of gasoline.

The fire began at the truck loading racks when a gasoline tank overflowed and ignited.
